Interesting ceremonial took place near Edenton, N. C., yesterday when the remains of Hon. The Republican campaign book proclaimed that the cost of living had been greatly reduced. While they were making the people believe it, the price of money was going up just the same as everything else.

Dr. Wylie, the government food expert, wishes to experiment with various kinds of wines and whiskeys to ascertain their effects on men. When he gets as far along as Mumm's Extra Dry he could get a big class of subjects with whom to experiment.

Says the Baltimore Sun: "A New York widow declares her boarder proposed to her a hundred times." Boarding house ladies will recognize in that one of the most persistent efforts ever made by a boarder to "get shed" of his board bill.

Every now and then somebody advocates that Southern Democrats "cut loose from Northern Democrats." Looks like the Northern Democrats quit us first. They have gone over to the Republican party and help it along with its landlides.

The national convention of the American Federation of Labor, in session at Minneapolis, has endorsed woman suffrage. Politics will get close to home when the old man has to lie awake all night while his wife tries to find out how he is going to vote so she can vote against him.

We see very few new foreign faces down South, yet during the six months ending October 31st, 682,137 aliens arrived in New York and at other Northern ports. In the corresponding six months last year 442,685 immigrants arrived in this country, an increase of 45 per cent in favor of the past half year. In the past year more Europeans have come here than there are people in a number of our States.

On the eve of President Roosevelt's departure from the Canal zone, he told the canal diggers to pay no attention to criticisms. If the diggers had learned of the storm of criticisms being heaped on the President by his Afro-American constituents, they could have told him they would stand their knocks if he would stand those coming in his direction. However, the Star's telegraphic news this morning shows that the President does pay some attention to criticisms.

THE STATE BANKERS

Executive Committee...
Yesterday at Raleigh Divided Into Seven Districts.

THE NEWS FROM RALEIGH

No Opinions by Supreme Court—Pharmacists in Raleigh Submit Examination—Reduced Rates on Mountain Products to the East.

(By So. Bell Long Distance Telephone) Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association in session here to-day, decided to divide the State into seven districts with the principal city in each as headquarters. The districts decided upon are Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro, Raleigh, Wilmington, Elizabeth City and Wilson. After the meeting the visiting members were entertained by the local bankers at a banquet. Mr. C. N. Evans, an ex-president of the association, was present at the meeting. The Corporation Commission to-day issued an order effective December 1, reducing the freight rate on apples, cabbage, potatoes and all vegetables on all roads of the Southern Railway. This will enable the produce of the West to be shipped into the East and sold in competition with Northern products, the rate now being well high prohibitive. As a comparison of the old and new rates, Waynesville may now ship to Charlotte at 20 instead of 25 cents per hundred; to Goldsboro at 30 instead of 35 cents.

Thirty-seven persons are before the State Board here standing examination for license as pharmacists in the State. There is one young lady among the number. Two negroes are taking the examination with the others. The result will not be announced for several days.

There is no improvement in the smallpox situation here. A quarantine sign appeared on North Person street to-day, this being in the most fashionable residence district of the city. The patient is a Mrs. Warner, a bride of only a few weeks, who is thought to have contracted the disease from a servant in the household.

Owing to the absence of Chief Justice Walter Clark, no opinions were delivered by the Supreme Court to-day as usual, but a batch will probably be handed down to-morrow. Judge Clark has gone to Edenton, N. C., to represent the State at the ceremonies of the disinterment of the remains of James Wilson, one of the original signers of the Declaration of Independence. The remains will be taken by an escort of honor to Philadelphia for interment. Judge Clark met Gov. Pennypacker and party at Norfolk and they proceeded on a special train to Edenton for the remains of Judge Wilson. Lieut. Gov. Winston represented Gov. Glenn on the trip.

Two charters were issued today. The Anson Real Estate and Insurance Co. of Wadesboro, capital $50,000, by H. H. McLendon and others, and the Liles-Ruffin Co. of Tarboro, $50,000 for general real estate business and dealing in bonds.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 20.—J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was today elected by the Board of Trustees president of the State Normal and Industrial College to succeed Dr. Charles D. McIver, who died September 17th. Professor Joyner declined to accept the position.

MAXTON SUCCESSFUL

Thriving Robeson Town Selected as Location For New Methodist College in This Part of the State Wilmington Represented.

(Special Star Telegram.) Maxton, Nov. 20.—This has been an exciting day in Maxton. Large delegations were here from Fayetteville, Sanford, Hamlet and Red Springs, contesting with each other and with Maxton for the location of a great female college by the Methodists of Fayetteville, Wilmington, and Rockingham districts. The afternoon was consumed in vigorous speeches for the different towns after which Maxton was unanimously chosen by the committee.

Rev. M. Bradshaw and Mr. W. B. Cooper represented the Wilmington district on the committee. Maxton is jubilant to-night and is receiving congratulations.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Skinner's Marine Railway Property Purchased by Mr. Skinner.

It was announced yesterday that Mr. Louis H. Skinner had purchased from the Grainger estate the valuable water front property which he and his father, Capt. S. W. Skinner have had leased for a number of years and known as Skinner's Marine Railway. The consideration is not stated, but it is understood to have been large. The property extends along the water front for a distance of more than half a block and is about 250 feet deep.

It is understood that Mr. Skinner early in the new year will begin the construction of a modern shipyard on the premises, associating with himself in the enterprise one or two other men of experience and capital. The yard is now splendidly equipped for pulling out vessels of almost any ordinary draft, but the improvements that Mr. Skinner proposes will put Wilmington on a par with any on the South Atlantic Coast in its facilities for the work.

BEN GREY PLAYERS.

Legitimate Drama By High Class Actors Tomorrow Night.

Ben Grey, whose company will play at the Academy tomorrow night "The Merchant of Venice" as a benefit for the Public Library, takes a delightfully optimistic view of the condition of the drama in the United States. In talking with a reporter in London last Summer, after depicting the stagnation in things theatrical in England, he proceeded to say: "In America on the other hand, everything is active and full of life. Certainly they have not, broadly speaking, such good actors as we have, and their drama is even more frivolous and thoughtless than ours, but there is an ever-increasing intellectual public demanding higher class plays, and there is no doubt whatever that they will rapidly get them. The future in America is extraordinarily bright."

HOLDER COLLAPSED

Accident at Gas Works Yesterday Afternoon Cut Off Supply For the City.

A GREAT INCONVENIENCE

Users of Gas Ranges, Heaters, Etc., Were Up in Arms—Old Reservoir Simply Gave Way Before New Could be Completed.

"Every person using gas is especially warned not to leave it burning on any account as a temporary suspension of the pressure might extinguish the flame and involve serious results when the pressure came on again."—General Manager Skelding of The Consolidated Company.

On account of the collapse of the large holder or reservoir of the Consolidated Company, at Front and Castle streets, yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, the city was last night without illumination or heat so far as gas was concerned. Owners of gas stoves, ranges and heaters were up in arms about the hour for the preparation of supper and the newspaper offices for want of heat for their linotype machines were strictly on the bum for all of the night and the early hours of this morning. A limited supply of gas is promised under varying pressure by to-night, but it will be several days before the gas affairs are normal again. The accident involves very extensive temporary repairs to the present tank or reservoir until the new one now under construction is completed, and for that reason patience is enjoined upon all consumers by the company, which is "up against it for fair."

The accident yesterday afternoon came as a total surprise to the officials of the company, who knew that the present reservoir was rapidly nearing dilapidation and were preparing to replace it as fast as circumstances would admit, but had no idea but that it would be good for some time to come. It appears that the top of the tank containing the gas under pressure, gave way and blew off, releasing some 100,000 cubic feet of the substance into the air and then tumbling back into the receptacle again a complete wreck. The bolts, rivets, and brads through the top of the holder had completely rusted and corroded in two and simply gave way, wasting in the atmosphere all the gas there was on hand at the works and making absolutely none available for the future supply. The newspaper offices were the first to feel the effects of the accident as the heaters, used for heating the metal under the linotype machines went out like a flash. The Consolidated officials were early at the scene of the accident but it was seen from the first that the affair was serious and that it would be at least 24 hours before even a limited supply could be furnished again. There are in the city 1,600 gas stoves, ranges and heaters, to say nothing of illumination connections and naturally there was wide interest in the accident. The phone in the office of the company and at the works were kept busy all the afternoon by inquirers for information as to the break-down and it required the patience of a Job to listen to the complaints. Everyone, however, was given the true facts of the situation and in a short time after the accident notices were sent to all consumers that the supply would be temporarily cut off and that it would be dangerous to leave jets burning or pipes open, the warning as given above by Mr. Skelding. The loss to the company will be between $5,000 and $10,000, the greatest amount not being in the loss of the hundred thousand feet of gas and repair to the holder, but the cutting off of the revenue from such a large number of consumers. Mr. Skelding was seen yesterday evening and he gave out the following statement in regard to the accident:

"About 4 o'clock this afternoon the holder or reservoir of the gas company at Front and Castle collapsed. The holder serves to store the gas during hours of light consumption and to supply additional quantities required during times of heavy demand. The company has long suspected that the holder was unsafe and as soon as the matter was called to the attention of the proper officials of the company, they took active steps to secure a new holder, a matter which involved considerable delay. It will be recalled that the Board of Aldermen held up this matter for something over a month while investigating the question of allowing the company to place the holder at the point desired.

"The new holder was shipped from the factory in New York a week ago and should be erected and in use before Christmas. In the meantime the company is having a temporary bypass put in to supply gas direct from the works to the street mains, which will enable us to furnish gas with more or less varying pressure, dependent upon the consumption. The old holder will be patched and it is expected that so far as consumers are concerned no difference will be noted in the supply when this work is completed which should be about a week or 10 days.

"Everyone using gas is especially warned not to leave it burning on any account as a temporary suspension of the pressure might extinguish the flame and involve serious results when the pressure came on again."

Mr. Skelding said that the company greatly regretted the inconvenience to patrons and that every effort would be made to repair the damage at once. The new holder is about two and one-half times the size of the present one and is being erected by the company at a cost of $25,000.

The accident yesterday involved bodily injury to no one, and few even in the immediate vicinity of the plant knew of its occurrence.

COAST LINE AFFAIRS

Annual Meeting of Stockholders in Richmond Yesterday—Mr. Warren Delano Succeeds Mr. Elliott on Directorate.

(By Associated Press.)

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—The stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Railroad Company held their annual meeting here to-day, with John P. Branch presiding. The old officers were all re-elected, the only change being in the board of directors in the choice of a successor to Director W. G. Elliott, deceased. Mr. Warren Delano was chosen without opposition.

The President, Mr. T. M. Emerson's report showed a net income of $4,816,942.13 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, an increase of $147,229.77 over the net income of 1905.

Quarterly dividends had been declared during the year amounting to $2,718,630, which subtracted from the net income, leaves a net surplus for the year of $2,098,312.13.

MR. THOMAS TO LUMBERTON.

Will Take Superintendency of New Dresden Cotton Mill.

Mr. R. L. Thomas, who for the past year or two has been superintendent of the Wilmington Cotton Mills and who has made a great many friends here, has resigned his position and will leave with his family on the early Seaboard train this morning for Lumberton, N. C., where he becomes superintendent of the New Dresden Cotton Mill now in course of construction there. Mr. Thomas is succeeded as superintendent of the Wilmington Mills by Mr. H. M. Chase, who has been connected with allied properties for eight or ten years.

Wilmington regrets to lose Mr. Thomas and his excellent family as residents and many hope that they will be pleasantly situated in their new home. Besides being superintendent of the new mill at Lumberton, Mr. Thomas owns stock in the enterprise and the management is exceedingly fortunate in securing his services. He is a practical man and knows the business from the bottom. For some weeks Mr. Thomas will be engaged in superintending the installation of the machinery in the new mill, which will be one of the largest in this section.

CAPT. QUINAN'S SPECIAL DETAIL.

Goes to Tampa, Fla., for Special Investigation in Service.

Captain J. H. Quinan, of the United States Revenue Cutter Seminole, has been ordered by the Department and left yesterday for Key West, Fla., where he will be one of a board of investigation to inquire into the wrecking of the Cutter Fessenden in the terrible storm off that coast recently. The Fessenden was practically a total loss to the government and the affair is to be fully investigated for a report to the Department.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Keef Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert O'Keef extend to them heartfelt sympathy in the death of their infant daughter, Mary Eleanor, aged eight days, which occurred at the family home on Walnut street yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock. The funeral was conducted at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Oakdale cemetery by Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace church, and the interment was in the family lot there. A large number of friends of the bereaved young parents were present to extend their condolences and a large number of beautiful floral tributes were laid on the little casket and the grave.

fore Christmas. In the meantime the company is having a temporary bypass put in to supply gas direct from the works to the street mains, which will enable us to furnish gas with more or less varying pressure, dependent upon the consumption. THE DEATH SUMMONS

Mrs Annie Reid Green Wife of Well-Known Citizen Expired Suddenly.

ON HER WAY TO CHURCH

Recurrence of an Attack of Heart Disease Brought the End Quickly at St. Thomas Rectory Early Last Night—Funeral.

As she was on her way to attend the closing service of the Forty Hours Devotion, a special adoration of the Blessed Sacrament in the Catholic church, Mrs. Annie Reid Green, the beloved wife of Captain Robert Green, so well and favorably known in Wilmington and throughout the State, yesterday evening a few minutes before 8 o'clock, suffered a recurrence of an attack of heart disease with which she had been afflicted for some time and died within a few minutes after reaching St. Thomas rectory, on Dock street. The news of her death coming at it did a few minutes before the service at the church, was a great shock to her many friends, many of whom learned the distressing circumstances at once and hastened to extend their profound sorrow to the deeply bereaved ones who were hastily summoned.

Mrs. Green left her home in company with her son, Mr. Tom Green, for the services and had proceeded but a short way when she complained of a depressing sensation. Faithful to the duties of her church to the last, however, she continued on, but had gone only as far as the rectory adjoining the house of worship when she was obliged to go in for rest. She sank into a chair and Dr. Russell, who was hastily summoned by telephone, had reached her but a few minutes when she passed gently away where she sat. The last rites of the church to which she was tenderly devoted were administered a few minutes before she died by Father Joseph, of Charlotte, who was a guest of Rev. Father Dennen at the rectory at the time. She died as she had lived, a consecrated servant of her Lord and Master.

Mrs. Green was about 56 years of age and was a native of Ireland, county of Farmanagh, coming over to this country when she was quite young. Thirty-five years ago in St. Thomas church she was married to Captain Green by Father now Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, and they had lived happily together ever since, Mrs. Green being especially devoted to her family and her friends. There are left to mourn their loss the grief-stricken husband, two daughters and two sons, the children being Mrs. T. J. McInerney, Mr. Robert J. Green, Mr. Thos. O. Green and Miss Sadie Green. They have the tenderest sympathy of all in their sorrow.

The funeral will be conducted to-morrow morning from St. Thomas church at the hour yet to be named.

THE STAR THIS MORNING.

Paper Out With Difficulties on Account of Gas Supply.

The Star this morning is gotten out under great difficulties owing to the failure of the gas supply by the accident at the works late yesterday afternoon, allowing but little time to resort to other expedients for heats for the linotype machines. However, the issuance of a paper at all is due to the kindness of the local branch of the Standard Oil Company, which kindly furnished for the emergency two of the blue flame oil burners for its Perfection Oil heaters. The "blue flames," while not especially designed for the work, did well under the circumstances and it is due to them that the paper is able to appear at all this morning anything like itself.

GREAT MEETING IN BLADEN.

Evangelist Edmundson and Daughter Doing a Great Work.

(Special Star Correspondence) Kelly, N. C., Nov. 19.—There was a great day at French's Creek Baptist church yesterday. It was the closing of a great meeting conducted by Evangelist Edmundson and his daughter from Raleigh, N. C. There were 51 additions to the church and others are yet to join. At the close of the meeting the people pledged about $1,200 in cash, labor and material to build a new church. The evangelist and his daughter will be at Wooten's Chapel this week. They were there about six weeks ago but were called to return for the week.

REPUBLICAN METHODS IN RE STRAINT OF TRADE.

Because the United States have steadfastly refused to make tariff concessions for mutual trade relations with Canada, the trade of that vast and fast developing country is turning to Great Britain. An Ottawa dispatch says the Canadian Parliament at its forthcoming meeting will adopt a tariff preferable to England. Another example of the wisdom of the Stand-patters.

The Star yesterday referred to the persistent efforts of President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, to impress the importance of reciprocity with Canada. He knows what trade with that country would amount to. The New York Times in referring to the same subject mercilessly exposes the Republican Administration in prosecuting trusts at home for combinations and methods in "restraint of trade" while the Republican tariff constitutes a wall in restraint of foreign trade. Says the Times:

"The alarmed stand-patters object to Mr. Hill's effective statement of part of the case for Canadian reciprocity because his motives are bad. He wants to make money for his railway by carrying freight both ways across the border. As between those capable of making money in this way and of making money by impeding the movement of such freight we have not the slightest hesitation in making a choice. The spectacle of protectionists prosecuting railways as conspiracies in restraint of trade and maintaining an obnoxious tariff as a barbed fence against international barker is enough to make everybody laugh except the Democratic donkey, who would rather starve upon another sort of cabbage than enter into the promised land upon such fodder.

"The idea that railways should be prevented from making a fraction of a cent profit upon the movement of a ton of freight at the cost of preventing buyers and sellers making dollars by the same operation is too absurd for patience. Moreover it is symptomatic of too much in our political life. Jealousy of any body making profit except yourself is a good thing to lay aside, and is characteristic mostly of incapables. No man relies less upon assistance from the public crib than Mr. Hill, and no man has done more to help others to profit through his profits. The tariff question is entitled to consideration upon its merits, and not upon questions of who profits by it. Let sleeping dogs lie is a good motto for stand-patters upon this head."

Stand-patters would find it is difficult to meet the stricture of the Times as they are ridiculous in giving reasons against Mr. Hill's anxiety to secure reciprocal trade relations with Canada.

COMPANIONS FOR CANIBAL "GENTLEMEN."

The antics of some people in this country would make good reading for the canibals who insist in dieting upon missionaries in the Fiji Islands. This impression will be conveyed by a Chicago dispatch on Sunday, stating that human bones were used as cudgels by medical students in a fracas with the dental students on the football field at the Northwestern University on Saturday. The football teams of the two departments of the institution met for their annual game, and between the halves the friends of the teams clashed. The dispatch tells the balance of the story as follows:

"The dental students made the first rush. Each carried a grotesque papier mache cane for a weapon, but the medical students drew forth from under their coats leg and arm bones, tied with red and purple ribbons, and with these clubs smashed the heads of their foes unmercifully. The dental students were soon put to flight. In the last half of the game the medical students wildly swung their weapons while urging their team to victory."

Every housewife in the land is familiar with the "J. & P. Coats Spool Thread." The American home of the concern is at Pawtucket, R. Of course this was not made at a single factory, for Coats has plants all over the world, the main factory being in Scotland. EQUIVOCATION.

The Amenuities of Life and the Gentle Art of Lying.

Very few of us, indeed, are exempt from the charge of direct lying. Not to mention the strategic lies told to enemies in time of war, to criminals, to sick persons and lunatics, as to which pages upon pages of casuistry appear in the older works on moral science, there are what may be termed the lies lubricant, wrung from us by etiquette and good breeding. If the amenities of life were not preserved through the gentle art of lying society could scarcely continue as a happy family; we should all have to live in separate cages. The best of us will tell direct lies on trivialities where politeness is imperative. Wherever practicable, however, the spirit of advocacy prevails. We say whatever we can truthfully, and tactfully pause while the hearer's self love and imagination fill out a generally agreeable impression. Family relationships, even more markedly than business or social relations, exemplify the universal attitude of advocacy. Mr. Remondout says: "Go to Brown's house and tell Mrs. Brown and the young ladies what you think of him and see what a welcome you will get. In like manner, let him come to your house and tell your good lady his candid opinion of you and see how she will receive him." No one save an unspeakable cad would speak slightly of a husband to his wife; no one save an unspeakable cad would tolerate slighting language in his presence concerning his wife. Such is the conventional law as to spouses, parents, children, blood relations in general, even intimate friends.—Wilbur Larremore in Atlantic.

Rapid Growing Fungus.

In "Recollections of a Happy Life" Miss North describes many of her young enthusiasms and among others that of collecting and painting English fungi. On one outing, she says, I came upon a fungus about the size of a large turkey's egg. Eager to see it develop, I took it up carefully and carried it home. I put it under a tumbler on the window sill of my bedroom at night. At daylight I was awakened by a horrible crash of splintering glass. Behold the tumbler had fallen to the floor and broken to bits. The fungus was standing five inches tall, having hatched itself free from its restraining egglike shell and in growing had raised the tumbler and tilted it sideways until it fell over and to the floor. The fungus had a horrible smell, and soon a swarm of flies were hovering over it.

Napoleon's Code and Women.

Napoleon said at St. Helena that his glory consisted not in having won forty battles, but in the civil code and in the deliberations of the council of state. Savigny and Charles Austin condemned the civil code as "a mechanical mixture of the results of the revolution and the old regime of Roman law and the customs," three-fourths of its contents having been extracted by draftsmen from a printed treatise. The code, in a word, was not a substantive mass of law, but "an index to an immense body of jurisprudence existing outside itself." One of the dictator's objectionable hobbies was his desire for the degradation of the civil status of woman, who is treated by the code as a "fickle, defenseless, mindless being." When asked in committee if wifely obedience was prescribed by old French law the first consul sharply replied: "Do you not know that the angel told Eve to obey her husband? Morality has written this article in all languages."—London Spectator.

The Eastern Eye.

The eyes of the yellow people are not oblique, notwithstanding that they appear to be. The line adjoining the commissures of the eyelids divides the eye into two equal parts, and is exactly at right angles with the axis of the nose. It is not always so; the exception is much less frequent than in the whites, for, as a general rule, it is in the latter that the eyes are not at right angles with the axis of the nose.

When death, the great reconciler, has come, it is never our tenderness that we repent, but our severity.—George Elliot.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; rich flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astounding result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven irremediably cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in postage for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

HOLIDAYS IN MEXICO.

They Are Numerous, but Are Not All Local Celebrations.

The visitor in Mexico is apt to be surprised at the number of holidays celebrated here and made the occasion of rejoicing, with accompanying music and decoration, and is likely to think that the Mexican does nothing but celebrate.

With his religious and national feast days, the Mexican does have many holidays of more or less general importance, and when he is not celebrating these he may be celebrating the day of his patron saint or of that of some member of his family, so that it seems to require little inducement for him to celebrate. If a member of the family goes out of town for a few days or weeks, his return is celebrated in some mild way and his welcome home made pleasant.

But not all of the celebrations which take place in the capital are Mexican, as the foreign colonies contribute their share of feast days. The Americans celebrate their day of independence on the glorious Fourth of July, and ten days later the French celebrate the fall of the Bastille, and so it goes, the British celebrating the birthday of their king, the Italians the entry into Rome of the troops of united Italy, the Germans the birthday of the kaiser, the Swiss the day of the formation of the confederation. The Spanish celebrate the birthday of their king, and in September their feast of Corvodon ga is important enough to last three days. No doubt there are other celebrations not so public or prominent, such as the Chinese New Year and others, but the above goes to show that not all the feasting in the capital is done by natives. An interesting point, however, is that foreigners who come to Mexico are soon the keenest for the coming of the various holidays, and Mexican, religious or their own, are jealously demanded as leisure days from all houses of business or commerce.—Modern Mexico.

CLIFF VINEYARDS.

The Farmer on the Rhine and the Difficulties He Surmounts.

Going down the Rhine you get a lesson in farming. If you wanted to buy a farm in America you would go out with a pick and spade and dig holes all over a 100 acre tract to make sure the soil was so and so and that there was not more than one stone to the rood. On these cliff vineyards along the Rhine it looks to you as if there was not more than a bushel of earth to the rood and that the rest was all stone.

In America you wouldn't buy a farm on the perpendicular surface of the Grand canyon, yet you imagine the bluffs of the Rhine seemed almost as impossible before the enterprising grapevines got a start there. There may be a few inches of space on the cliffs where some German has not made a terrace big enough for a bunch of grapes, but if any such spot has been overlooked you failed to discover it with your binoculars.

There are advantages in owning a vineyard on the Rhine. Next to the financial returns, the chief advantage lies in the glamour of romance that hangs over the bluffs. Frowning castles look down on you from the most inaccessible peaks.

"Who lives in that big brownstone house?" you ask a German passenger on your steamer as you round a bend.

"That is the castle of an old nobleman who kidnaped a beautiful maid and held her prisoner," you are informed. "When the knights of those days tried to rescue her, the old nobleman would simply drop a big stone or two upon them as they attempted to climb the cliff. One day while rolling a stone down upon a knight the nobleman fell off and was killed."

"And now," you observe, "I suppose the place is for rent. Do you know how much the administrator wants for it?"—Chicago Post.

Mrs. Craigie's Habits of Work.

It had been Mrs. Craigie's habit for many years to begin her work at 8 o'clock in the morning, no matter how late she had been up the night before. Off and on she wrote till 11:30, never being able to do more than half an hour's work at a time, a disability which makes the amount she produced the more amazing. After luncheon—even after a luncheon at the Carlton—she wrote again until it was time to pay calls and to talk at tea tables as idly as if she had been idle all day, a feat of unbending which few women and fewer men can perform. But after dinner she was always tired. "At night," she confessed, "I never by any chance do anything. I cannot even write a post card then."

August.

"August," the name of the month, is accented on the first syllable. "August," the adjective, is accented on the second syllable. This is due, no doubt, to the fact that, though both started from the Latin "augustus," they have arrived by different routes. The adjective is the French "auguste," while "August," commemorating the Roman emperor's title, is the French "aout" and the middle English "aust" or "aust." "July" used to rhyme with "duly," even in Johnson's time, as it had done centuries earlier and as it does in southern Scotland to this day.

In the Air.

Farmer Greene (who has been knocked down by a balloon anchor)—Gol dern 'em! I'll hev th' law on 'em! No use th' sheriff? Farmer Brown—No use klicking, Josh! Them critters is above the law, I reckon!—Houston Post.

It is not enough to run; one must start in time.—French Proverb.

Why Vinol Is Better Than Any Other Remedy to Restore Health and Strength

Vinol

WE RETURN MONEY IF IT FAILS TO GIVE SATISFACTION

ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

Because Vinol is a real Cod Liver Preparation and does not contain a single disagreeable or harmful ingredient and is not a secret formula.

Because Vinol contains all the medicinal elements—the soothing, healing, strengthening and flesh creative properties of Cod Liver Oil—but without oil or grease.

Because everything in Vinol,—except the tonic iron and a fine old wine,—is actually extracted from fresh cods' livers and their oil.

Because Vinol is deliciously palatable and agreeable under all conditions. Everybody likes it.

Because Vinol tones up the system, strengthens every organ, nerve, muscle and fibre of the whole body and thus overcomes weakness by thoroughly eradicating the cause of disease.

That's Why Vinol is altogether different and better than any other remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all Throat, Lung and Wasting Diseases.

That's Why Vinol Restores Health and Strength to Delicate Children, Feeble Old People, Weak and Sickly Persons, Nursing Mothers, and Convalescents.

MEETINGS CALLED OFF.

Failure of Gas Supply Cut the Aldermen Out Last Night.

The failure of the gas supply served to postpone the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night. Illuminating gas, of course, is meant. The City Hall has gas as its only means of illumination and it was dark last night except for a few lamps that they were able to rig up in police headquarters. The Board had been called to consider a petition of the Colonial Dames for a stone coping to surround the handsome new monument which they are having erected to the memory of Revolutionary heroes at Third and Market streets, but early in the evening when it was seen that no lights could be had in the hall, the Mayor advised members of the Board that the meeting would be called off.

The Board of Audit and Finance was also to meet last night, but its office was dark, too, and the meeting was postponed until Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The Board of Aldermen will probably meet Thursday afternoon so that any appropriation that may be made for the coping for the monument may go immediately over before the other Board.

JUDGE MEARES IN EXTREMIS.

The End Expected at Any Minute This Morning.

Wilmington's venerable and distinguished citizen, Judge Oliver Pendleton Meares, is critically ill at his home on South Third street, this city, and the end is expected at any moment. He has been practically an invalid for several months and yesterday suffered an attack of heart trouble that is giving the family great alarm. Judge Meares is in the 79th year of his age and his recovery would be marvellous indeed for one of his years. All members of his family have been summoned to his bedside. Mrs. H. B. Short, a daughter, arrived yesterday evening at 6 o'clock on a special train from Lake Waccamaw, and others are expected to-day. Mrs. Ernest V. Baltzer, of Savannah, another daughter, found it impossible to leave yesterday on account of a sick child. The friends of Judge Meares hope for his restoration but the physicians in attendance hold out very little hope.

After all it pays to trade at the "Little Store."

Percale 6 cents per yard to-day at 10 o'clock at Polvogt's Two Days of Red Tag Sale.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Services First Church of Christ, Scientist, this evening at 8 o'clock, Odd Fellows' building, second floor. All are invited.

—Justice Borneman yesterday disposed of a dozen cases or more of interest. They ran the gamut of assault and battery to a number of intricate civil complications.

—The Chamber of Commerce will meet this morning at 11:30 o'clock for the consideration of an important matter. All members are urged to be in attendance.

—The arrangements for the five-cent theatre on Market street have been cancelled owing to the inability of the management to get certain changes in the store that were required.

—Captain John W. Harper expected to leave last night for New York where he will purchase a third and new steamer for the Cape Fear river traffic. The boat will be used for passengers during the Summer season.

—The tug Alexander Jones arrived in port yesterday morning from Philadelphia whither she towed the schooner Job H. Jackson. She expected to leave last night for Tampa, Fla. for another tow.

—The new overcoats and caps for the Wilmington police force have arrived from the M. C. Liley Company, the well known uniform makers of Columbus, Ohio. The coats are of good material and look well on Wilmington's "finest."

—The tug Rescue, towing barge Shark, of the Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company, which have been at work here on raising the steamer Atlantic, of the Cape Fear Fisheries Company, cleared yesterday for the return to Norfolk. The Atlantic is now at Skinner's Marine railway for repairs.

—The British steamer Hampton, Capt. Courtney, cleared yesterday for Bremen, Germany, with cargo of 14,153 bales of cotton, valued at $795,000 and consigned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son. The British steamer Queen Olga, which has been discharging fertilizer products here, will clear to-day light.

—The Star is requested to state that an error was made in the communication of the Hospital Board of Managers, returning thanks for certain needed improvements in the building.

The Ministering Circle of King's Daughters gave the articles instead of the Hospital Circle, though both are doing a great work.

—Chairman McEachern and Commissioners Robertson and Vollers, of the New Hanover Board, went to Castle Haynes yesterday and had a conference with the committee from the Pender Board with reference to the new bridge that will be built over Northeast river at or near that point. The party was accompanied by Capt. Walter MacRae, civil engineer.

—Yesterday's Charlotte Observer says: "The Philip Carey Manufacturing Company has announced its purpose to establish a branch distributing office in Wilmington. The branch there will be in connection with the Hyman Supply Company. Mr. Warren Presson will be in charge. Mr. Presson formerly traveled for the Shaw-Harness Company and is a most capable young man."

MAYOR'S COURT YESTERDAY.

Engineer Peebles Given Preliminary Trial—Several to Roads.

Engineer J. A. Peebles, of the steamer Tar Heel, was given preliminary trial before the Mayor yesterday on the charge of having shot John McDowell, a colored deck hand some time ago, the particulars of which are well remembered. Mr. Peebles was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., who presented an affidavit from McDowell stating that he did not remember what occurred on the night of the shooting; that he was drunk and that he had no desire to prosecute the engineer. James C. Lucas, an eye witness of the shooting, gave his version of the affair, stating that Peebles shot the negro in self defense. The Mayor stated that the matter was one of so much importance that he deemed it best for the Superior Court to pass upon the question and the engineer gave $50 bond with Mr. T. D. Love as surety, for his appearance at the January term.

The only other cases of any importance yesterday were those of six colored women charged with vagrancy and disorderly conduct. Each was given 30 days on the farm. They are Nancy Davis, Jessie Davis, Mabel Mills, Martha Wiggins, Sue Fields and Gussie Wiggins.

New Steamer Arrived.

The steamer Atlantic, recently purchased in New York for the Wilmington-Southport line by the Brunswick Transportation Co., arrived yesterday morning at daylight. She is pronounced a very fine steamer. She will go on the run at once. Capt. Melvin T. Craig, formerly of the steamer Sea Gate, will be master of the new boat.

DIED.

O'KEEF—At the family residence in this city at 8:45 A. M. Tuesday, November 20th, 1906, Mary Eleanor, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert O'Keef, aged eight days. Funeral services were conducted at Oakdale cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Her Husband's Book.

"James, dear, will you bring me up a scuttle of coal from the cellar?" said a busy wife.

"That's just the way with you," said James, with a frown, as he put down his book and rose from the armchair.

"Just the way with me?"

"Yes!" he snapped. "As soon as you see me enjoying myself you have something or other for me to do. Didn't you see I was absorbed in my reading?"

"Well, dear, I will do it myself."

"Yes, and tell everybody, your mother especially, that you have to carry your own coal up from the cellar. No, I'll do it. Let me mark my place."

So he marked the place in the book at which he had ceased reading, and when he went down to the cellar, grumbling all the way, she picked up the volume and found it was a love story and that the passage he had been absorbed in was as follows:

"My darling, when you are my wife I will shield and protect you from every care. The winds of heavens shall not visit your face too roughly; those pretty lips shall never be soiled by menial tasks; your wish shall be my law; your happiness!"

Just then he reappeared and, dropping the scuttle upon the floor, said: "There's your coal! Give me my book!"—Tit-Bits.

Man and His Galluses.

The "gallus" marks the freeman and the man of genuine, unpretending culture and civilization. Your snob and your savage abhor it. In Mesopotamia the wild bashi bazook wears a belt; in Yucatan the Indian wears a girdle of shark's teeth; in Senegambia the shameless cannibal sports a gunny sack; in Atlantic City some years back the dudes used to wear sashes. But find a man who when he throws off his coat to begin his daily toil lays bare a pair of heavy sky blue galluses and you'll find a man who pays his way in the world, loves his wife, rears his children in the fear of the Lord and votes the straight ticket. The "gallus" is useful, it is graceful, and properly adorned with hand painted flowers and brass buckles it is beautiful. To be ashamed of it, to conceal it or to abandon it for a somber leather belt is to fail in an essential of true manhood and fly in the face of fate.—Baltimore Sun.

The Unicorn.

The unicorn was one of the fabled monsters of antiquity. It was, according to a summary of the opinions of several of the old time writers, a beast about the size of a common horse, but with very short legs. The people of the middle ages believed in the existence of three kinds of unicorns—the magnificent white unicorn, which had a purple face and blue eyes and a single horn a yard in length; the egliserion, which resembled a gigantic deer and had a very sharp horn growing from the middle of the forehead, and the monoceros, or common unicorn. The white unicorn's horn was of three different colors—white at the lower part, black as ebony in the middle and red at the point. Common unicorns were said to have had horns about eighteen inches in length, but so strong that they could easily kill an elephant.

Clock Inscriptions.

In former times it was the custom of clockmakers to inscribe on the dial plates of their clocks quaint verses, one of the most common being the following:

I serve thee here with all my might
To tell the hours by day, by night.
Therefore example take by me
To serve thy God as I serve thee.

Another favorite inscription was "Tempus Fugit," or "Time Flies," and thereby hangs a tale. A well known English clockmaker who flourished toward the close of the last century, on being asked by a customer whether a certain clock was of home manufacture, replied: "Oh, certainly. Don't you see the name, sir—'Tummas Fugit'? I often have his clocks through my hands."

The Circle County.

The oddest shaped county among the thousands which go to make up the separate divisions of the various states is Warren county, Tenn. It lies almost exactly in the geographical center of the state and is about as near a perfect circle as any division of land could possibly be. The circle would be perfect but for the fact that there is a short stretch of the northern boundary line which follows a small stream for a short distance. It is bounded by Cannon, Dekalb, Coffee, Grundy, Van Buren and White counties.

Reserve Buds.

Every one has noticed how, when a large branch of a tree is cut off, small branches will shoot out around the stump. These branches are from the reserve buds, of which all trees have a great number at every portion of their surface. Under ordinary circumstances these never come to maturity, but when the tree is wounded or cut off or loses some of its branches the reserve buds at once come into play and renew the foliage.

Her Scheme.

Mrs. De Style—He never gave her any part of his wages, but spent it in a nearby saloon. Mrs. Gunbusta—How mean! Mrs. De Style—But he gives her every cent now. Mrs. Gunbusta—She's reformed him, eh? Mrs. De Style—No, but she runs the saloon. —New York Times.

False Doctrine.

School Examiner—What is the meaning of false doctrine? Schoolboy—Please, sir, it's when the doctor gives the wrong stuff to the people who are sick.—Christian Register.

A cruel story runs on wheels, and every hand oils the wheels as they run.—Ouida.

War From a Thumb Bite.

Perhaps the most portentous if innocent incident in the proceedings leading up to England's war with King Theodore of Abyssinia was a thumb bite. The British consul was practically a prisoner at his court when Mr. Stern, a British missionary, called upon the "king of kings." The first mistake of the Englishman was to seek an audience immediately after the king had dined too liberally with his court. The second was his choosing as interpreters two utterly incompetent men. The inefficiency of this pair so angered the dusky monarch that then and there he ordered them to be beaten. Mr. Stern, "unable to bear the sight, turned around and bit his thumb." Now, he was not aware of it, but to bite the thumb is in Abyssinia a defiance and a threat of vengeance. The quick eye of the king caught the innocent menace, and he had the missionary also beaten. From that sprang the war, the defeat of the forces of the king and his death by his own hand in his ruined city of Magdala.—London Standard.

The Eternal Wilderness.

We still have our "unmanly" places. And there shall come to us a wilderness here and another there where now there is none, for everything moves in circles, which is not at all a new discovery, and the man who today laments a dearth of the wilderness may live long enough to find himself one day wielding an ax as dull as the pen he now befalls with—and forty miles from a grindstone. We shall not remonstrate with the writers who are picturing us going to eternal smash for want of tall timber. Their work is not without its good effect in staying the denudation of our nearby recreation grounds, and we are content to watch the wily old wilderness creeping up in the rear of the advancing army of invasion, reaching out with sure, silent fingers and reclaiming her own, building anew her razed stockades and unfurling to the winds her defiant banners.—Recreation.

The Ears of Insects.

Simply because a bee has no ears on the sides of its head it is no sign whatever that it is wholly without some sort of an auditory nerve. This is proved by the fact that grasshoppers, crickets, locusts and flies all have their ears situated in queer places—under the wings, on the middle of the body and even on the sides of their legs. The common house fly does its hearing by means of some little rows of corpuscles which are situated on the knobbed threads which occupy the place which are taken up by the hind wings of other species of insects. The garden slug or shellless snail has its organs of hearing situated on each side of its neck, and the common grasshopper has them on each of its broad, flat thighs. In some of the smaller insects they are at the bases of the wings and in others on the bottom of the feet.

Way of One Man.

He was romantic, but bashful for his age. At twenty-five it is expected nowadays that a man should be matter of fact. She was his equal in romance, but a trifle older, old enough indeed to be a widow. The conversation had turned on the ever important subject of mothers-in-law. There was a lull in the argument. Gazing far, she sighed and said:

"Ah, me! I shall never have another mother-in-law!"

He looked at her with interest for a moment and then suddenly blurted out: "My mother died when I was very young!"

It was an inadvertence, but he could not draw back. She threw herself into his arms, and they have lived happily up to now.—New York Press.

The Sheep Drives the Wolf.

The wolf will perish, eaten up by the sheep. The sheep is not what a vainglorious folk have imagined. The sheep presses forward, irresistible, driving before him lions and tigers, driving before him man.

Yes, man. Ask those thousands of English, those thousands of Scotch, those thousands of Irish, who have been driven back into the sea by flocks of sheep, urged forward by certain noble lords and large proprietors.—Elle Reclus' "Primitive Folk."

The First Astronomy.

The beginnings of astronomy were on the tops of towers of Babylon and the pyramids of Egypt. It is believed by many writers that both classes of structure were erected for astronomical purposes. As early as the time of Job, nearly 2,000 years before Christ, most of the stars had been divided into constellations. The writer of Job mentions Arcturus, Orion and Pleiades as being familiar. The modern science dates from the labors of Copernicus, Tycho Brahe and Newton.

GERMAN GLEE CLUBS.

Early Days of the Saengerfests in This Country.

In the early days of saengerfests in this country they were held annually. The first saengerfest was held in New York in 1852, and many Newark Germans attended. Below are given extracts from the Newark Daily Advertiser, printed at the time:

June 10, 1852.—The German glee clubs of New York will celebrate the third annual festival in New York this year on the 19th to 22d of June. The New York Journal of Commerce states that the glee clubs from abroad will be received by the New York clubs and honored with a torchlight procession. The principal performance will take place at the Academy of Music, Fourteenth street, when the choruses will be sung by over 1,200 male voices, accompanied by an orchestra of 100 pieces. On the 22d will be held a picnic on the Bloomingdale road, opposite Striker's bay.

June 22.—Third musical jubilee of German singers, Saturday to Tuesday, 19th to 22d. The execution of the "Magic Flute" overture by 1,200 voices was very uncommon and surprising by the New York clubs and was received with great applause. The Eintracht of Newark sang "Wallisicher Schiffergesang" in a distinguished manner. But the most marked performance was Martin Luther's "Ein Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott," arranged by Fink. We felt immediately what religious music really is—how grand, solemn and sublime such a hymn is when performed by a large orchestra and hundreds of voices. It was something to be remembered long. Kossuth was present during an intermission and was cheered.—Newark News.

THE SERPENT'S VENOM.

Mohammedan Legend of the Origin of the Tobacco Plant.

The prophet was taking a stroll in the country when he saw a serpent, stiff with cold, lying on the ground. He compassionately took it up and warmed it in his bosom. When the serpent had recovered it said:

"Divine prophet, listen. I am now going to bite thee."

"Why, pray?" inquired Mohammed.

"Because thy race persecutes mine and tries to stamp it out."

"But does not thy race, too, make perpetual war against mine?" was the prophet's rejoinder. "How canst thou, besides, be so ungrateful and so soon forget that I saved thy life?"

"There is no such thing as gratitude upon this earth," replied the serpent, "and if I were now to spare thee either thou or another of thy race would kill me. By Allah, I shall bite thee."

"If thou hast sworn by Allah, I will not cause thee to break thy vow," said the prophet, holding his hand to the serpent's mouth. The serpent bit him, but he sucked the wound with his lips and spat the venom on the ground. And on that very spot there sprang up a plant which combines within itself the venom of the serpent and the compassion of the prophet. Men call this plant by the name of tobacco.—Conte Arabe.

No Wool Over His Eyes.

Uncle Abe, a grizzled old negro, visited a zoological garden. He stood fascinated before a cage containing a chimpanzee and could not be induced to move. After awhile the animal came to the front of the cage and Uncle Abe spoke to him.

"Howdy?" he said. "Howdy?"

The chimpanzee not making any response, Uncle Abe chuckled and winked at him knowingly.

"Dat's right; dat's de way ter do! Doan' you nebber 'gin ter talk. Ef you does white man put er hoe in yer han' en meckyer wuk!" he said.—Harper's Weekly.

Stephen Girard, Hero.

A tablet "in commemoration of the courage and humanity displayed by Stephen Girard during the epidemic of yellow fever in the year 1793" in Girard college in Philadelphia discloses a phase of character in the philanthropist not generally understood. During the fever epidemic he gave up his business and his luxurious home and assumed the superintendency of a yellow fever hospital. He took up the work others recoiled from and did the work because it was his duty.

On Himself.

They had quarreled again. "Perhaps you are not aware," she said, "that I had over a dozen proposals of marriage before I accepted yours."

He flushed. "And perhaps, madam," he retorted haughtily, "you are not aware that I proposed to nearly twenty women before I became acquainted with yourself."

Temper.

If a man has a quarrelsome temper, let him alone. The world will soon find him employment. He will soon meet with some one stronger than himself who will repay him better than you can. A man may fight duels all his life if he is disposed to quarrel.—Cecil.

Posted.

"Can you repeat the Declaration of Independence?" she asked. "I used to be able to," he replied, "but about all I remember of it now is, 'To be or not to be—that is the question.'"—Judge.

From the Woods.

A popular soprano is said to have a voice of fine timbre, a willowy figure, cherry lips, chestnut hair and hazel eyes. She must have been raised in the lumber region.

It became known yesterday at Detroit, Mich. that during an auction sale on Monday of the household effects of the late John Mullin at his former home, 235 Vinewood avenue, $15,000 in gold was found hidden in a dusty old carpet which the auctioneer had just sold as it lay on the floor. When the purchaser ripped it up the money was found. Mr. Mullin was at one time prominent in the iron industry at Pittsburg.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—High Point, Nov. 19.—The best element of the negro population here is in sympathy with the officers in trying to ferret out the blind tiger joints operated by the negroes and other meanness indulged in by them. To this end Parson Brooks, of the Methodist church, is the prime mover in a law and order league to be established among his people. In this organization it is hoped to enlist all of the good negro people so as to aid the officers in running down all the blind tigers and stopping unlawful acts of his people. So many arrests have been made lately among them for illicit selling of liquor that the best element of the colored population see what it is coming to if the business continues to thrive as it has in the past. The white people commend Parson Brooks and his helpers in this movement.

—Greensboro Industrial News, Nov. 20.—Percy Gray, who for some time has been seriously ill at the home of Maj. J. M. Morehead, was taken to Richmond Sunday by Dr. and Mrs. Hodges. It was thought at one time that Mr. Gray would recover, but recently he suffered a relapse and now little hope is entertained. Both of his lower limbs are paralyzed.

—Greensboro Industrial News, Nov. 20.—Prof. T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the State Audubon Society, returned Sunday night from Washington, where he has been attending the annual session of the American Ornithological Association. Professor Pearson gave a lecture on the Colony of Birds of North Carolina. The colony birds are those that frequent the coast and move in groups. Among them are the "laughing" gull, black skimmer and three species of terns. Among other things, Professor Pearson spoke of the work of the game wardens, of which there are now fifty in the State.

—Mr. C. C. Moore, of Charlotte, president of the North Carolina branch of the Southern Cotton Association, wants to meet 500 farmers of Robeson county at the court house there next Friday, 23rd, and explain the plan of the Southern Cotton Co., which proposes to organize to buy cotton when the price is forced below the cost of production.

—Newbern, Nov. 19.—The Norfolk and Southern railroad bridge connecting Morehead City and Beaufort is completed and today the first car with passengers arrived in Beaufort. The car was occupied by President F. S. Gannon, his family and a few invited friends. The bridge is over 800 feet long and has two draws and is a very substantial structure. An assembly of 1,500 interested and enthusiastic spectators gathered at the railroad terminal to witness the invasion of the iron horse. A few residents of Carteret county, those living in the remote part of the county, had never seen a railroad train before, and hugely enjoyed the unusual spectacle. The road is to be extended in the near future and a railroad to Cape Lookout is regarded as a strong possibility within the near future.

JACKSON NOT POOR.

The Great Statesman Had Very Many Early Advantages.

Verily we must abandon the belief that Andrew Jackson belonged to the class of American youths who rode to fame and fortune by their own efforts, unaided by the help of family and friends.

Never did he taste the bitter cup of physical want, of hunger and cold, of helpless, spirit breaking poverty. Never was he without home and loyal friends and a sufficiency of the comforts of life. Never was it his lot to suffer that humiliation, that mortification, that inward bleeding wound which the proud nature writhes under when there is no money in the pocket, no change of clothing for the body, no welcome light in any window in all the world as the harassed day draws to its end and the wretched night comes on.

Poverty! Why, Andrew Jackson never in his whole life had a genuine taste of what the cruel word really means.

Few men have been more greatly indebted to the intelligent affection of a self sacrificing mother. Few sons of poor parents have had such advantages as were his lot, and few lads of poor parents did such a scanty amount of manual labor. Compared to the rugged, self taught youth of Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, Sam Houston, Francis Marion and Nathaniel Greene, the boyhood of Andrew Jackson almost assumes the appearance of having been cast upon "flowery beds of ease."—Watson's Magazine.

Not a Final Settlement.

The person who settles a matter and settles it wrong is in the position of a man who has got rid of the skunk under his porch by driving the innocent little animal under the barn. Then every wandering boy who knows the facts comes along and works for hours with a pole trying to goad the animal. Whether he succeeds or not, the attempt is ruinous to the brand of atmosphere used in the neighborhood.—Minneapolis Journal.

THE COTTON MARKET.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 20.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled during today's trading with prices losing ground as a result of realizing and bear pressure. The close was barely steady at a decline of 15 to 20 points

Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales. The opening was barely steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 8 points on lower cables. The unfavorable weather reported in the south and a bullish estimate of tomorrow's census report promoted some buying on the initial decline but after a slight recovery the market gradually sagged off in the absence of aggressive bull support, and in the early afternoon sold for 10.12 to 10.30 for March or about 20 to 23 points net lower. At this level there was covering by Wall street shorts on which the market relied 10 to 11 points but there seemed to be little fresh buying for long account and the market was very nervous and irregular in the late trading with the close only 3 or 4 points up from the lowest. Southern spot markets according to private reports were unchanged to 1-16 higher. Estimates for receipts were a little heavier and aided the downward movement. Receipts today 103,653 bales against 82,

443 last week and 101,646 last year.

For the week 410,000 bales against

412,648 last week and 391,182 last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans 22,

665 bales against 28,754 last year and at Houston 20,493 bales against 30,876

last year.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Nov. 20.—The drygoods market showed a hardening tendency today in several directions. Cotton yarns are firmer and higher. There has been a larger export trade recently with Red Sea ports and Manila, a record breaking sales of printed goods for the latter being reported. The jobbing trade was fairly good for the day.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

WAS BURIED AT EDENTON, N. C.

Distinguished Representatives of North Carolina and Pennsylvania Participated in Exercises—Patriot Was Signer of Declaration.

By Wire to The Morning Star. Edenton, N. C., Nov. 20.—The body of James Wilson, of Pennsylvania, who, with fifty-five other American patriots, signed the Declaration of Independence, was today disinterred from its long resting place here, preparatory to being sent to Philadelphia where, on Thursday next, it will be deposited in Christ church burial ground, alongside those of his wife, almost in the shadow of Independence Hall.

The disinterment today was conducted with elaborate ceremonial, in the presence of a number of distinguished citizens of Pennsylvania and North Carolina. Following the exercises the body was placed aboard a train for Norfolk, where the gunboat DuBouque is in waiting to convey it to Philadelphia. Upon reaching the latter city, the body will be taken to Independence Hall, where, according to the programme, tributes will be paid by members of the Supreme Court of the United States, of which James Wilson was at one time a justice. Attorney General Moody, Andrew Carnegie, Senator Knox, Dr. Swir Mitchell, Alton B. Parker and others.

The ceremonies at Edenton opened with the reading by Burton Alvah Konkle, of Philadelphia, representing the Historical Society of Pennsylvania and the James Wilson Memorial Association of the original parchment request for the disinterment and removal of the Wilson body to Pennsylvania.

Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, officially representing the Governor of North Carolina, and J. G. Wood, present owner of the Hays plantation from which the body was disinterred, made an address delivering the body to the care of Major General Gobin, ex-commander of the G. A. R. who appeared as the personal representative of the Governor of Pennsylvania; L. H. Alexander, representing the St. Andrews Society of Pennsylvania, and Burton Alvah Konkle.

The address of Chief Justice Clark was followed by brief remarks by General Gobin on behalf of Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, and the unveiling and dedication by General Gobin of a cenotaph by those to whom the body had been delivered for reburial in Philadelphia.

Lieutenant Governor Winston, of North Carolina, was present as the personal representative of Governor Glenn, of that State; Captain Feichter, of the United States gunboat DuBouque represented the Federal Government. North Carolina representatives of the Society of the Cincinnati and Sons and Daughters of the Revolution were present.

Honor to Remains at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—The special train bearing the body of Judge Wilson arrived at Norfolk from Edenton, N. C., shortly after 2 o'clock and, handled by United States sailors, was immediately transferred to the United States gunboat DuBouque. From the time the train arrived until the body had been placed aboard the DuBouque, minute guns in respect to the memory of the deceased, were fired from the gunboat which set sail at once for Philadelphia.

WANT TILLMAN SUPPRESSED.

Negroes Ask Mayor of Chicago to Prohibit His Lecture.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Chicago, Nov. 20.—Protest against the delivery of an address in Chicago by Senator Benjamin Tillman was made to-day to Mayor Dunne by a delegation of colored citizens. Dr. A. J. Carey, pastor of Bethesda Church, was the spokesman of the party and he declared that Senator Tillman's speech would destroy the harmony now existing in this city among the colored citizens. Mayor Dunne would not discuss the matter to-day. "I will only say," he said, "that a man who justifies lynching cannot be a consistent believer in law."

A unique prenuptial agreement providing that the wedding shall not affect either party's title to his or her property and that in case of a separation the wife shall have no claim for alimony or separate maintenance, was signed at Detroit, Mich., yesterday by H. W. Hardman, aged 42 years of Middleburg, W. Va., and Miss Hattie E. Briggs, aged 42 years of Penn Yan, N. Y., who were later married at the Wayne Hotel. An attorney drew up the agreement for them.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR NEGRO TROOPS

Secretary Taft Holds President's Order of Dismissal Temporarily in Abeyance.

MR. ROOSEVELT STANDS PAT

He Will Not Revoke Order of Dismissal Unless Charges Upon Which Action Was Taken Are Proved False.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) New York, Nov. 20.—A cablegram from President Roosevelt declining to revoke his order discharging colored troops of the Twenty-fifth Regiment unless the facts as known to him are shown to be false, but expressing his willingness to hear new facts bearing on the case, was made public to-day by Gilchrist Stewart, of the Constitutional League.

Mr. Stewart cabled to President Roosevelt at Ancon, Panama, as follows:

"Republican County Committee unanimously denounced discharge of colored soldiers. Parsons, Olcott, Bennett, committee petitioning Department. Newspapers emphatic. Developments and new facts warrant. Ask immediate suspension order."

The President's reply contained the following:

"Unless facts known to me are shown to be false, the order will under no circumstances be revoked, and I shall not for one moment consider suspending it on a simple allegation that there are new facts until these new facts are laid before me. Inform any persons having new facts to have them in shape to lay before me at once on my return, and I will consider whether or not any further action by me is called for."

(Signed) THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Taft Suspended President's Order.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Secretary Taft refused to make any statement whatever tonight concerning the negro troops which have been ordered discharged at Fort Reno.

"I can't discuss the case until tomorrow," Secretary Taft replied to all questions. He refused to say whether he had been in communication with the President by wireless.

Immediately after his arrival in Washington this afternoon from New Haven, Secretary Taft went to the War Department and summoned Gen. Oliver, the assistant secretary of War; Major Gen. Ainsworth, the military secretary; and Brigadier Gen. Thomas H. Barry, the chief of staff for a conference. William Loeb, Jr., the secretary to the President, was also summoned to the War Department before the end of the conference, which lasted more than an hour.

All were silent about the conclusions reached and it is assumed that the Secretary of War has decided to let the case of the colored troops stand just where it is until after he gets in touch with President Roosevelt, who is expected to arrive at Ponce, Puerto Rico, tomorrow morning.

The War Department had no advice confirming the reports from Fort Reno that 25 of the members of the Twenty-fifth Infantry have already been discharged. So far as the department knows only seven members of the battalion responsible for the riot at Brownsville have been dismissed and these are soldiers who were arrested at San Antonio and were dismissed from the service after the courts failed to substantiate charges. The men were participants in the riot at Fort Brown.

Some Soldiers Dismissed.

Fort Reno, Okla., Nov. 20.—The order from Washington holding in abeyance the order discharging the negro troops without honor did not come as a complete surprise at Fort Reno. Military men who have watched the extent of the public feeling against the discharge orders, have believed that the War Department would delay carrying out the project until a further investigation was made. It is believed here that Secretary Taft is responsible for the abeyance order. During Secretary Taft's trip of inspection of the military posts in the South, it is understood that Gen. W. S. McCaskey, the head of the Department of Texas made the Secretary thoroughly acquainted with the history of the entire affair at Brownsville.

Before the order was received yesterday from Washington, 24 members of Company B had already been discharged without honor. The weather was cold and disagreeable. As the soldiers were paid off and dismissed they were orderly and well behaved. None displayed any ugly feeling. The officers were mute.

Monday night a freight train, shortly after leaving Terrell, N. C., on the Asheville and Salisbury division, of the Southern Railway, ran down the mountain, derailing the train at Point Tunnel. Fireman West was killed and Engineer Dougherty was slightly injured. A number of the crew suffered slight injuries.

FLOOD DAMAGE IS ENORMOUS

Heavy Rains in Tennessee and Kentucky Cause Terrific Property Loss.

RAILROAD BRIDGE GONE

Trains Still Tied Up And All Streams Are High—Houses Collapse or are Swept Away—Streets Rivulets.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.) Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20.—With rain, still falling, at times reaching a downpour, the situation in this section of the State becomes more and more serious. It is estimated that already flood losses will approximate a quarter of a million dollars in Shelby county.

The heavy downpour of rain and rising waters make it impossible for wrecking crews to rescue the bodies of the Nonconnah trestle disaster, who lost their lives Sunday night. All mails are delayed and the rural free delivery service virtually suspended owing to ruined bridges and roads.

The streets of Memphis suffered great damage by flood and danger signals are placed on many thoroughfares.

A levee camp and outfit was destroyed with a loss of $25,000.

Railroad conditions to-day continue about as they were last night with no immediate prospect of a resumption of traffic.

Owing to the pressure of water of the Wolf river against two spans of the Illinois Central railroad bridge across that stream they were swept away to-day and all northern traffic over the road has been suspended.

Five small houses in Alabama street, near Johnson avenue, collapsed and fell into Bayou Gayoso.

Twenty-five miles of county levee are under water and the greater portion is probably destroyed.

The McQuinn drydocks are almost a total loss and a ferry boat in Wolf river has been sunk.

Big Damage in Kentucky.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 20.—A cloud burst here to-day, following two days of heavy rains, sent Little River out of its banks and flooded a large portion of the city. The damage is estimated at $50,000 to $100,000. Many stores on Main street have had from one to three feet of water in them and the three story brick buildings of James F. Garnett on Main, near Ninth collapsed, two of the four stories in the building being wrecked.

The Illinois Central road's tracks was four feet under water and the passenger depot floated from its foundations. Families living near the river were driven from their homes. The electric plant is submerged and there was much damage to telegraph and telephone wires. The large union tabernacle was flooded.

Eleven inches of rain have fallen at Hopkinsville since Saturday morning.

Cloudburst at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 20.—The persistent rainfall of the last three days culminated early to-day in an electrical storm and cloudburst that made the city tremble. Trees were struck by lightning, the telephone systems of the city were much disorganized and telegraph facilities in all directions are impaired. Streets in many sections of the city resemble lakes and it was impossible for pedestrians to move about without wading knee deep in waters. Basements were flooded and stocks in general retail establishments were damaged to an aggregate of about $50,000.

WARM WIRELETS.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad has granted the request of the Brotherhood of Conductors for an eight hour day. It is said to be one of the first roads in the country to make this concession.

A special from Charlotte, N. C., says: "The Southern Railway has let a contract to the Oliver Company of Knoxville, Tenn., for double tracking the main line of that road between Charlotte and Atlanta."

A Seattle, Wash., dispatch last night says the death list of the wrecked steamship Dix, eight names were added to-day, making a total of 50 known dead as a result of the disaster. Parties are still searching along the shore near where the Dix went down after colliding with the steamer Jeanie.

Mrs. Tinsley, an aged white woman, was found at her home near Gaffney, S. C., yesterday with her throat cut, and it is believed she was murdered for her money. It was known that she had a large sum of money in the house though when it was searched none was found. Tom Harris, a white man, has been arrested on suspicion.

At Newark, N. J., yesterday Vice Chancellor Emory granted an order returnable December 4, upon the John P. Holland Submarine Boat Company to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed. H. P. Ladabany, who made the motion, asserted that the company, which is capitalized at $1,000,000 is insolvent, that its assets are only a few hundred dollars and that its liabilities are $358.

PEANUT GROWERS ORGANIZE.

Will Demand Better Prices or Hold Their Crops.

(By Associated Press.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—The peanut growers of Virginia and North Carolina will demand five and one-half cents a pound for prime grade peanuts in this year's crop. Failing to receive this price in the open market the growers are pledged to hold their entire output.

At this rate for the prime grade, fancy nuts will sell for six cents and extra fancy for six and a quarter and one-half cents per pound.

The growers are thoroughly organized as a whole and in county associations under what is known as the Indianapolis Equity Organization. The price for this year's crop were fixed to-day at a meeting in Suffolk, Va., which was attended by about 400 peanut growers. Every peanut producing section of the two States was represented by one or more delegates.

General crop conditions and the price scale were discussed at length. Reports showed that the growing crop is short and inferior.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Alban's, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy's drug store. Price 50c.
